JUNE 2018

Summer is a prodigal of joy. The grass Swarms with delighted insects as I pass,
 And crowds of grasshoppers at every stride Jump out all ways with happiness their guide;
 And from my brushing feet moths flit away In safer places to pursue their play.
 In crowds they start. I marvel, well I may, To see such worlds of insects in the way,
 And more to see each thing, however small, Sharing joy's bounty that belongs to all.
 And here I gather, by the world forgot, Harvests of comfort from their happy mood,
 Feeling God's blessing dwells in every spot And nothing lives but owes him gratitude.
